Unit One

Nursing

Pre-reading questions:

- 1- What do you think nursing mean?
- 2- Nursing needs continuing knowledge. Discuss.

Nursing means the process or the profession of caring about patients. Nursing is a part of the health care system that involves prevention of illness and care of physically ill and disabled people of all ages. Nursing is considered one of the most sublime professions as it aims not only at taking care of patients in health institutions, but also giving a hand to all those who need it.

Qualities that Make a Good Nurse

A nurse is the person who has completed a programme of basic and generalized nursing education. Nurses are the cornerstone of this profession, therefore they should have some qualities and skills that enable them to do the job efficiently like:

1- Empathy

It is the ability to feel what another person is experiencing from their point of view. For nurses, it means trying to understand how the patients perceive and feel what's going on around them.

2- Controlling responses:

It means that for nurses to give people care and support ,they must be able to control their responses to focus on the tasks at hand. Research shows that such nurses are better able to concentrate, solve problems and keep their patients safe.

3- Communication Skills

Communication skills are among the most important qualities for nurses. As a connection between patients, doctors and family members, a nurse never stop collecting and transmitting critical data.

4- Lifelong learning

Healthcare is constantly developing, and while nursing programs teach all the necessary clinical skills, most graduates will need practice and continuing education to reach full competency.

5- Flexibility

Nursing requires flexibility as a nurse may work in different places and conditions with different shifts and working hours.

6-Patience

Nurses see people at their worst. Patients are often scared, in pain, or simply unable to function at their full capacity. The ability to be patient and deal with situations calmly means nurses can provide a higher standard of care .

7- Teamwork

Nurses cooperate with the medical staff constantly. Successful teamwork in nursing means working efficiently and finding ways together to face and solve problems.

Unit Three

The Old Man and the Sea

Pre – reading questions :

- 1- Why didn't Santiago cut the fishing line ?
- 2- Why do you think the old Santiago went fishing alone ?

An old fisherman Santiago, and his young apprentice, Manolin, had not caught a fish nearly for three months. Manolin had been told by his parents to work with a more successful fisherman but Manolin refused and visited the old man every evening to talk to him. After 84 days with no fish, Santiago was sure he would catch something if he sailed to the deep water of the sea so, on the 85th day, the old man set off alone, by 12 o'clock on the first day, a big fish marlin had taken Santiago's bait, but because the old man was not strong enough to pull it to the boat, the marlin pulled the boat along.

This continued for two days and nights. The old man was in great pain because he had the fishing line round his body. On the third day, the marlin was so tired that the old man managed to pull it to the side of the boat and kill it. He started to sail home pulling the fish in the water behind the boat. He thought about how much money people would pay for his huge fish, but then sharks attacked the boat and tried to eat the marlin.

The old man killed seven sharks, but during the night, more sharks came and ate the marlin. Only its skeleton remained. When he got back home, it was very early morning. The old man was completely exhausted and went to bed. The other fishermen were surprised when they found Santiago's boat with the fish skeleton. They wondered how a man like old

Santiago could catch such a huge fish alone. Manolin was worried about Santiago but was glad to find him sleeping at home. He brought him coffee and newspapers, and the two men promised they Would go fishing together again one day.

Unit Four

Dr.Magdi Yacoub

Pre- reading questions:

- 1-What do you know about Professor Magdi Yacoub?
- 2-What kind of people do you think professor Yacoub has helped in his life?

Professor Magdi Yacoub is a world-famous heart surgeon . He was born in Egypt in Belbis in 1935 , the son of a surgeon who worked in different places around the country . The family had to move every few years , so Yacoub learned to adapt to living in different places and enjoyed meeting different people .

When his aunt died because of a heart problem , Yacoub decided to become a heart surgeon . He studied medicine at Cairo University and became a doctor in 1957 . In 1960s, he taught at Chicago university in the United States and worked with many of the world's best heart surgeons.

Yacoub had the qualifications and experience to do great things. In 1973 , he became a heart surgeon at Harefield Hospital in England . While he was there , Harefield became the most important transplant center in the country.

In the early 1980s , he was part of the team which did the first British heart transplant operation. At this time , Yacoub travelled thousands of kilometers in small planes to find healthy hearts for transplants.

Yacoub became professor of Heart Surgery at London University in 1986. Although he retired as a surgeon in 2001 , Yacoub continued to research new treatments . He is now the head of the Magdi Yacoub Heart Foundation , which is one of the largest charitable organizations in Egypt.

In 2009 , Yacoub's foundation opened the Aswan Heart Centre project (AHC). This meant that Egyptian patients with

Kinds of energy

Energy can be classified into two types, nonrenewable and renewable energy. Nonrenewable is ancient and comes from the fossilized remains of animals and plants. Nonrenewable takes long time to form, so it is not considered sustainable or renewable for long term so it will run out one day as it is used once and we can't produce more to replace what we use. Coal ,oil and natural gas are examples of nonrenewable energy. As many people know , nonrenewable energy's main disadvantages lies in its harmful effects on the environment. It must be burned so it releases dangerous amounts of carbon dioxide into the atmosphere which causes global warming.

Renewable energy sources come from natural elements . Solar energy comes from the Sun . Wind energy comes from the wind . Hydroelectric power comes from water. Geothermal energy comes from the heat inside the earth. This kind of energy is sustainable as it lasts forever , it doesn't pollute the atmosphere as it is clean.

Can the world run on renewable energy?

The question should not be , can the world run on renewable energy , but will the world be able to meet 100%of its energy needs with renewable energy ?It is possible for the world to only run on renewable energy . The technology has been there for quite a while now . Due to the fossil fuel industry's influence , the rollout of new renewable energy projects has been slowed up .

In general, the world will depend on the renewable sources of energy in the future, as the sources of nonrenewable energy are limited and will run out one day. Lots of countries have begun to use renewable energy in most industries.

Tips to save energy

- Turn off lights when leaving a room.
- Use LED lights
- Unplug devices when not in use
- Keep thermostat at low temperature.
- Reduce water consumption
- Use solar powered devices
- Use public transport instead of private car
- Get used to cycling to short distances instead of driving

Cleanliness

Pre-reading questions:

- 1- Why is cleanliness important?
- 2- How can we encourage the children to know about the rules of cleanliness?

Cleanliness is the state of keeping clean and remains away from dirt to achieve and maintain the good physical and mental health. Cleanliness is not a work which we should do forcefully. It is a good habit and healthy way to live. All types of cleanliness are very necessary for our good health whether it is personal cleanliness, environmental cleanliness or work place cleanliness (like school, college, office, etc....). We all should be highly aware about how to maintain cleanliness in our daily lives. Cleanliness level has become generally high in the developed countries because of the citizens, strict governmental rules, high education level and proper understanding of the people. Historically, cleanliness has been considered one of the important factors by which we judge a civilization's or society's development.

Educational institutions can play a great role to spread the basics of cleanliness. Teaching and learning material regarding cleanliness should be included in the curriculum and textbooks. To train young people schools should involve students in cleaning their schools, homes and environment and highlight proper sanitary practices.

Also, the media can be a powerful source to educate the masses about the importance of cleanliness and disadvantages of an unhygienic way of life. It should focus on both the good as well as the unhygienic practices in society .There are different kinds of hygiene like:

-Personal hygiene

-Good personal hygiene habits include:

- Washing the body often. Everybody should have a shower every day.
- Cleaning the teeth at least once a day.
- Washing hands with soap after going to the toilet
- Washing hands with soap before preparing or eating food.
- Changing into clean clothes.
- Turning away from other people and covering the nose and mouth with a tissue or the hand when coughing or sneezing.

-Medical hygiene

-Medical hygiene practices include:

- Isolation of infectious persons or materials to prevent spread of infection.
- Sterilization of instruments used in surgical procedures.
- Use of protective clothing and barriers, such as masks and gloves.
- Safe disposal of medical waste.

Food hygiene

Food hygiene practices include:

- Cleaning of food-preparation areas and equipment .
- Dish sanitizing by washing with soap and clean water.
- Washing of hands thoroughly before touching any food.
- Proper storage and refrigeration of foods

Unit(7)

The Balanced Diet

A) Pre-reading questions:

1-What is your favourite food?

2-What are the main elements of our food?

A balanced diet is a key to a healthy life. A balanced diet should contain all useful food in suitable quantities. It gives your body the nutrients to work well. It is also a combination of different kinds of food elements such as carbohydrates, fats, proteins, vitamins and minerals.

In order to get the proper nutrition from your diet, you should obtain the majority of daily calories.

What are calories?

The number of calories in food is a measurement of the amount of energy stored in it. Your body uses calories from food for walking, thinking, breathing and other important functions. The average person needs to get about 2,000 calories a day.

However a person's daily calories intake can vary depending on age, gender and physical activity level . Men generally need more calories than women, and people who exercise need more calories than people who don't.

The importance of a balanced diet:

A balanced diet is important because your organs and tissues need proper nutrition to work effectively. Without good nutrition, your body is more prone to disease, infection, fatigue and poor performance. Rising levels of obesity and diabetes are prime examples of the effects of a poor diet.

How to achieve a balanced diet?

The following food groups are essential parts of a balanced diet.

Fruits:

Besides being a great source of nutrition, fruits make tasty snacks. Choose fruits that are in season in your area.

Vegetables:

Vegetables are primary sources of essential vitamins and minerals, dark leafy vegetables such as spinach, green bean and broccoli generally contain useful nutrition and can be eaten at every meal. Variety of vegetables will help you obtain the most important value of food.

Grains:

The hull is the outer shell of the grain where the majority of the grain's nutrition lies.

Proteins:

Meat and beans are primary sources of protein, which is essential for proper muscle and brain development. Lean, low-fat meat such as chicken, fish and beef are the best options. Avoid fatty meat to reduce the amount of fat and cholesterol in meat.

Dairy products:

Dairy products provide calcium, vitamin D and other essential nutrients. However, they are also major sources of fats. So, it is best to choose small portions of full-fat cheese and fat-free milk and yogurt.

Oil:

Oil should be used sparingly. Good oil such as olive oil can replace fatter vegetable oil in your diet. Avoid deep fried food because they contain a large number of empty calories.

Finally, remember these tips of a balanced diet:

- * Aside from adding certain substances to your food such as solid fats, salt, sugar.
- * Drink water throughout the day.

- * Eat fresh vegetables and fruit everyday
- * Avoid eating excess food (Binging).
- * Avoid stress during eating
- * Eat foods that are high in fibers.
- * Avoid starving yourself.
- * Avoid skipping breakfast.

Unit Eight

Safety at Home

Pre-reading questions:

- 1-Think about dangers that can happen to children at home.
- 2- If you leave a child alone at home , what will you advise him-her to do?

Home is the place where children grow , learn and find comfort, love and care. It's where they can see, touch, explore and experience the world around them, so their minds and bodies develop properly. It's also a place where children need to feel safe.

If you've decided to go for self-care, you'll need to give your children some basic training. Take a tour in your house together. Make sure your children can lock and unlock the doors and windows. If they are allowed to operate a certain appliance, make sure they know it well.

Put a first-aid kit in a handy location such as the kitchen and teach them some basics to stop bleeding from a cut and deal with a minor burn. Tell them not to light candles.

Make sure they know how to call the emergency line. Write your work numbers and these of neighbours they could call for help.

Stress that if there's a fire, they should leave the house immediately and go to a neighbour to call for help. The same rule applies if they smell gas.

Since the microwaves do not have open flames and they shut off automatically, this is a somewhat safer cooking alternative as long as your children have been well trained in its proper use.

Caution in kitchen:

A session on kitchen safety is a must for kids who will be making their own snacks. Here are some of the things your children should know

- * Avoid wearing loose clothes, especially big sleeves around the stove
- * Use a wooden spoon to stir hot foods instead of a metal one which can become hot.
- * Point knife blades down and away from you, never towards your fingers.
- * When using vegetable peelers, scrape away from the body.
- * To take something out of the oven, use oven mitts or pot holders to pull the rack out first, and then lift the dish.
- * To avoid falls, clean spills on the floor immediately.
- * Concentrate when you cook .Don't get distracted while cutting with a knife or wander off towards TV when something is being cooked on the stove.

Unit(9)

Friendship

Pre reading questions

1-Do you have friends ? Do you remember how long have you been with them?

2-Choosing a good friend needs effort. Explain

William Shakespeare once said," A friend is one that knows you ,understands where you have been , accepts what you have become , and still , gently allows you to grow."

They say " Friends are like flowers in the garden of life", Friendship also needs its own kind of water and soil to grow healthy and strong ,So what does healthy friendship look like? How would you build a strong and lasting friendship ?Here are some tips to encourage a stronger friendship

- Choose friends wisely: "He who walks with the wise grows wisely, but a companion of fool suffers harm"
- Be kind: Look at those things that you can do to make their life easier rather than making them feel heavier.
- Be genuine: " Being honest may not get you a lot of friends but it will always get you the right ones."
- Find the time; Show your friends that you want to be around with them . You may send text messages , email . chat , or call to make them feel that they are important in your life.
- Show appreciation: Make sure to express how you feel and take actions to show that you care for them .

Complimenting them on the good qualities or things they do , is also a great way to show you appreciation.

- Express your gratitude: Let your friends know how much you value your friendship
- Be a good listener: Pay attention and listen closely to what the other person is saying . Making eye contact and body language will also help you show that you are listening
- Admit and apologize : Learn to admit and apologize when you do something wrong instead of allowing your pride to eat you . Swallow your pride , accept your mistakes because that is a part of growing up.
- Realize that nobody's perfect: Everyone makes mistakes in life . Accepting this fact is the key to a stronger and long – lasting friendship.
- Be trustworthy : Nothing kills a budding friendship faster than spilled secrets
- Share the bad time: During the worst time, you will get to see the true colours of the people around you .
- Support a friend : Friends are like a backbone , they are always there when you need support . Cheer them up when they accomplish something .
- Respect each other's opinion: Learn to be open-minded and don't expect them to agree with everything you say but rather , expect them to have their own view of things.
- Never talk behind your friend's back: Gossip is toxic and ruin the even best friendship.
- Try new things and have fun together: Why not go out and do some new adventures together? It is a great way to create some happy memories and lighten the burden load you feel.

A friend is someone you trust and share a deep level of understanding and communication. There are some people who struggle to create long – lasting friendship . Friendship takes effort and skill but it is worth doing this effort when you finally find someone with whom you can share a bond of trust and loyalty for a long period of time.

Unit (10)

The Pearl

Pre-reading questions

1- Kino and Juana wished they had never found the pearl .
Discuss.

2-The pearl is a source of problems. Explain .

Kino , a Mexican pearl diver, and his wife Juana live a happy life until, one morning , their son Coyotito is stung by a scorpion . They take him to the local doctor , but he will not treat the boy because the family is so poor to pay. Juana treats the boy herself . That same day , Kino goes diving and find an enormous pearl , which means he is now a wealthy man . However , when other people hear about the pearl , they plan to steal it.

When the doctor hears about Kino's pearl , he offers to treat Coyotito, even though Juana's treatment has already cured him .That night ,someone tries to steal the pearl .so the next day Kino goes into the town to sell it. The merchants say the pearl is not very valuable because it is too big. Kino knows this is a trick and so he decides to go to another town to sell it .

Juana wishes Kino would throw it away because she believes it is evil and fear that it will destroy the family , Kino refuses . he wants to pay it for his son's education.

On their way to the other town , the family are followed by thieves who want the pearl . Juana and Coyotito hide in a mountain cave , but Coyotito cries out.

When the thieves hear this noise , they fire their guns at what they think a wild animal. Kino attacks the thieves , but now it is too late –Coyotito is dead.

Kino and Juana wished they had never found the pearl . Deciding it is evil; They return to their home town and throw it into the sea.

2- Read the following passage, then answer the questions:

Video and television are responsible for the declining interest in reading among the young. While they may be harmless in themselves, they do nothing to build up reading skills. If some of the hours children spend watching television were devoted to reading, the population would be better educated. Watching a story is a totally passive pastime. Someone else has made the decisions about everything in the story. Reading a story is an active partnership between writer and reader. Ideas are sketched and the mind of the reader creates the rest.

Watching something is easier. The problem is that many children read very slowly. They decode a page or two in a class and about the same again for homework. It is hardly surprising that such children then declare that they find reading boring and prefer to watch television. Their difficulty is not reading the words - it is interpreting them. They need to be able to read fast enough to feed the mind's hunger for a story. That means practice. Only by reading daily will a child become a strong and independent reader

Parents need to be convinced of the importance of preventing their children from wasting their hours on inert viewing.

A. Answer the following questions:

- 1- What is the writer's main objection to video and TV ?
- 2- Why is watching a story easier than reading it ?
- 3- How can children be good readers ?

B- Choose the correct answer from a, b, c or d:

5- The underlined pronoun "they" refers to

- a) the young b) video & television c) children d) reading skills

6- The main idea of the passage is the importance of -----
